Escape of the Kidnapped Judges—The Situation at Little Rock.

LITTLE ROCK, May 6—Judges Bennett and Searle escaped from their captors and arrived here to-day under a Federal escort. A party of Brooks' adherents pillaged the house of Gen Blocher last night. The measles and smallpox are reported to be raging in Brooks' camp. Matters are becoming daily more critical and complicated.

ST LOUIS, May 6—The Democrat's special gives an account of the capture and escape of the Justices of the Supreme Court, Bennett and Searle. Lieut Summerhill moved them after their capture to the outskirts of the city whence by Gen Blocher's order they were transferred to Benton. Summerhill having learned that assassination was intended for the prisoners disclaimed complicity and offered them his aid in making their escape. This was effected and the prisoners were supplied with revolvers, which they subsequently gave up to their escort, Summerhill and Thompson. Soon after meeting a squad of United States troops they were taken under their protection and conducted to Little Rock.

PHILADELPHIA, May 6—A special meeting of the stockholders of the California and Texas Railway Construction Company was held to-day, at which it was agreed that they will furnish upon the company's securities, at a low rate of interest, funds [illegible] to complete the road from Dallas to Fort Worth, Texas, and from Texarkana to Brockton, [illegible] to be finished within the present year and money to be used for specific purposes. The work of construction has been at a stand since September when the notes of the company were protested.

Brooks [illegible] by the Supreme Court of Arkansas.

LITTLE ROCK, May 7—The Supreme Court met this morning. The case of Brooks against Page State Treasurer asking for a mandamus compelling Page to pay a requisition made on him by Brooks as Governor of Arkansas came up. A decision was rendered granting the mandamus, the Court holding that the decision of Judge Whytock of the Circuit Court, rendering judgment of ouster against Baxter was valid. Brooks' supporters now think the President will recognize Brooks as Governor.

SPRINGFIELD, May 6—A fire to-night destroyed the engines and other valuable property in the machine shops of the Toledo Wabash & Western Railroad Co. The loss will not fall short of $100 000.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Congressional News.

WASHINGTON, May 7—The Senate Committee on Private Land Claims reported adversely on the bill extending the correcting of the boundaries of Rancho Carrado and De Riamundo San Mateo county Cal.

There seems little probability that the Senate finance bill reported yesterday can become a law. The inflationists see no advantage in it and the [illegible] objects to some of its features just as strongly. The chances now are that Congress will do nothing on the subject.

The Secretary of the Navy favors the continuance of $500 000 subsidy to the Pacific Mail Co unless the Government buys the new ships.

WASHINGTON, May 7—The Senate Finance Committee's bill as reported back yesterday places no limit on the issue of national bank circulation instead of fixing the amount at $150,000,000, as first proposed and, as stated yesterday, the other provisions fix the maximum greenback circulation at $82,000,000.

SOME NEW FIGURES

FURTHER EVIDENCE OF GOVERNOR GROVER'S "STRUGGLES"

SALEM May 6th 1874

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

While examining questions of taxation and [illegible] of the State, allow me to give one item. C. A. Reed offered Chadwick, Secretary of State, all the second and third stories of the Opera House, in Salem for $1 500 per year. The house has more capacity than the present buildings rented by the State and yet the State pays

	Per Year.
Jas. [illegible]	$2 000
Grover & Miller	1 [illegible]
[illegible]	320
[illegible] old	120
	$3 760

For which see report of Secretary of State for 1872. To which must be added

Rooms of Grover and Miller	$ 390
Room of Tom Patton	150	—$540

Making a total of $4 300 per year rents, which is $2,800 more than is necessary and is purely "spoils of party."

This sum, for four years makes a treasury leak of $11 200, and from present appearances the capital buildings will not be capable of use for the next four years which will make the bill foot up for the eight years of Mr. Grover's administration the sum of $22 400—a sum sacrificed to the cause of party. Mr Chadwick having admitted that he could not take the Opera House because he was under political obligations to his friends.

Now isn't it about time we adopted the one-term principle. There was no need of the above unnecessary and extravagant expenses and no reasonable excuse for the same, as the same spacious accommodations of the Opera House could have been had at any time during the last four years, and could yet be had for $1,500 per year.

SOLON.

THE CIVIL RIGHTS BILL.—A Washington dispatch of April 29th says the Civil Rights bill was taken up in the Senate to-day and the Republican majority propose to continue with it until it is disposed of. The majority are willing that it should be acted on without debate, but the Democratic Senators will probably discuss its provisions for several days and will offer numerous amendments, none of which will be adopted as it is the intention to pass the bill as it comes from the Judiciary Committee.

SCHURZ'S ORATION ON SUMNER.—A Boston special says Schurz's oration at the Sumner memorial services April 29th, was one of the finest efforts of his life, and was enthusiastically received.

Parties familiar with the facts have arrived to-day who assert that the mail and express were not disturbed but that a passenger on the stage who had about $400 is missing and that Clark showed about this amount while intoxicated. Clark denies all knowledge or complicity in anything of the kind, and the general impression is that there is no foundation for the report.

A number of the citizens of Clatsop county met at the Court House in Astoria on the evening of May 1st, and organized a County Woman Suffrage Association. After fully discussing the different matters and adopting the preliminary measures, the meeting adjourned until Friday evening to hear the reports of committees on Constitution and By laws and fully organize by electing officers.

The Astorian says: The firm that buy watches at 13 cents a dozen and chromos at 50 cents a thousand or some such prices, and then sell them at one dollar to the lucky drawers of tickets at 25 cents for a worthless photograph took in more coin than a back pay Congressman while at Astoria. If he can't flourish more of the equivalents than it takes to start a National bank it is no fault of the average Webfoot.

The Grand Encampment of the Independent Champions of the Red Cross in session at Salem last Wednesday, elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Grand Commander C E Burrows of Salem; Grand Counselor T B Handley, of McMinnville; Grand Secretary E P Smith of Silverton; Grand Treasurer Mrs Hattie M Bowker of Salem; Grand Senior Champion Mrs J P Tozier of Hillsboro; Grand Junior Champion, Mrs A C Hays of Milwaukie; Grand Captain of the Host W H Rubell of Dallas; Grand Chaplain Rev J P Adams, of Sheridan; Grand Mistress of Ceremonies Mrs D L L Jasper of Albany; Grand Sentinel W H Smith of Jefferson.

The Record says: A trial has just been held at Albany in the case of Rev C W Shaw now agent of the University and formerly minister of the M E Church at Albany charged by Rev I D Driver Presiding Elder with immoral conduct in embezzling about $125 of church funds. The court consisted of five ministers, and the prosecutor presided by virtue of his office of Elder. The facts are that the church at Albany owed Mr Shaw and didn't pay him, but allowed him to retain on salary account this $125 raised by Mr Shaw himself for another purpose. This was over two years ago. The charge of embezzlement fell entirely to the ground but the court decided that the money did not belong to the church to use for such a purpose and must be returned. The singular part of this case seems to be that the prosecutor was also the chief judge. We learn that Mr Shaw has appealed to the Annual Conference which meets next August.

The Statesman says a company has agreed to put up a bridge across the Wallamet at Salem for the sum of $40 000. If they can obtain the contract so as to commence operations by the 1st of June they will complete it this season. A meeting was held in Polk county a few days since composed of the best citizens of the county to whom the plans were shown. After examining them satisfaction was expressed with them and a petition to the County Court was drafted asking an appropriation of $5 000 in aid of the enterprise and unanimously signed by those present. This petition is in circulation now and is meeting with much success. If the amount thus asked for can be obtained it is said that $15 000 can be obtained by private subscription. This will leave $20 000 to be made up by the citizens of Salem and Marion county. The matter has been pretty well canvassed here and it is believed that amount can easily be obtained.

WEDDING IN HIGH LIFE.—A New York dispatch of April 29th says: A special to the [illegible] from Washington says several weddings are to occur there next month, notably those of Senator Stewart's daughter on the 4th and of Miss Nellie Grant at the White House on the 21st. The latter is to be a grand affair and as many as a thousand invitations are to be issued.

THE CASE OF GOV. McCOOK.—A Washington telegram of April 29th says: The personal charges against ex-Governor McCook of Colorado have not been sustained and the committee report favoring his confirmation as Governor. The contest against him evidently grew out of personal relations between McCook and the delegate Chaffee, but the President stands steadily by him.

WHO MADE LA DOW AND HOW WAS IT DONE?

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

It has before now been complained that the [illegible] attached to [illegible] Clerks and Sheriffs [illegible] have [illegible] such scramble for these offices in the nominating conventions that all other offices were overlooked and nobodies were generally chosen to fill them. In this way has been explained the general character of our Legislatures of late years. We have a fresh illustration in another quarter this year. The Democratic Legislature of 1870 fixed the State Treasurer's office so that it is understood that four years occupancy of it returns the incumbent a comfortable fortune. The consequence is that the present occupant is reported to have invested a good round amount of coin in the endeavor to secure a renomination at the late Albany Convention, while the anticipated political plunder called several political gentlemen into the field to contest the race with him. The successful one resides east of the mountains, consequently his competitors in this and the southern portion of the State were anxious to send the Congressional nomination east of the mountains, so as to decrease the chances of that section for the Treasurer. The Congressman was first nominated and thus an unknown mediocre received the nomination. But the plan failed and the eastern candidate for Treasurer was also nominated by one majority. This is the way the matter is explained by many delegates to the Albany Convention. And thus the people of Oregon lose the undeniably valuable services of the present Representative in Congress for the coming two years and the Democratic Convention, by an unfit nomination, probably succeeds in electing one of his Republican opponents. If the Treasurer's office had paid only the salary the Constitution established there would have been no strife for it, and no trading of other nominations to get it.

On this subject of the State Treasury, there is complaint on the part of the creditors of the State that they have been paid off largely in silver whereas it is alleged that very little silver was paid into the Treasury this year. It is certain that the silver has been accounted for by saying that large amounts were paid by certain counties which, on inquiry, were found to have paid little or none. It is surmised that more silver found its way into the Treasury than was paid in by the counties.

The Legislature of 1870 likewise enacted a stamp law for the insurance companies—requiring all insurance policies to be stamped. The object was to tax the insurance companies. The result is that insurance companies add the amount of the stamps to the premium, and the insured pays it. The citizen is taxed and not the company. It ought to be repealed. The citizen pays tax upon his property, and ought not to be required to pay the State another tax in case he insures his property against fire.

Insurance and express companies holding no taxable property in the State have long been doing a large business here, for the benefit of non resident stockholders. There ought to be and is some way to collect their just proportion of tax without imposing it upon the resident of the State, as is now done in the case of the stamp tax. I trust there will be ingenuity and intelligence enough in the next Legislature to devise it.

I know there is a different explanation than that I have given above of the most singular nomination for Congress of the Albany Convention, and perhaps in justice to the unsuccessful candidate for Treasurer it ought to be rected. It is that candidates for the U S Senate in the future, compassed Nesmith's defeat expecting thus to kill off a rival candidate. But I cannot regard this as probable. It is so manifest that such a course would defeat the object. Mr Calhoun sought to destroy Mr Van Buren's prospects for the Presidency by procuring his rejection as Minister to England, and only made him more prominently a candidate. Therefore I do not credit this version which undertakes to account for a nomination which excited both the surprise and indignation of Democratic voters.

Another version is that Nesmith's defeat was procured by an ultra element which refuses to forgive him for having supported the war. This too seems improbable for Nesmith is known by this class of men and with the one exception of the war his public acts have squared with their convictions. It is not likely that they would take up a man they knew nothing of who has come to the State since the war and for aught they know was not only a war man but may have been a Republican. Disliking the present Congressman they would hardly have been willing to supersede him with a man unknown and without reputation.

Hence I hold to the opinion that this unfortunate nomination for our Democratic friends if not for the State, was the result of the unconstitutional increase of the emoluments of the Treasurer's office by the Legislature of 1870.

LINN COUNTY ITEMS

Business men are doing well and trade is thrifty.

Politics are badly mixed. Much dissatisfaction exists among Bellrock Democrats.

A rousing temperance meeting is to be held in the Court House this evening. Prof Powell of Salem will address the meeting.

The Independents motto: We will not Foster Tolmen and if you Douthitt we will turn Grover out Brown. We don't need any More land for before the Dawne the Campbell will come and without Waite-ing we will all take a Hand and Beach the entire fusion crew.

Seeding is very backward and heavy rains continue to fall almost daily. Grain that is up looks well and should the season prove favorable old Linn will raise a tremendous crop. Every dwelling house that is fit to live in (and some that are not) in Albany is occupied and there is much demand for more houses. Our town is to have two new school houses all to be conducted on the free school system.

Married!—yes it's the old story. They saw each other—loved and on yesterday the minister was called in to lend his aid in completing the contract and now two hearts beat as one. Mr H Wheel was the happy smiling bridegroom and Miss [illegible] Leaders the modest blushing bride. May they [illegible] joyfully through life's journey and may their pathway never be [illegible] with [illegible].

SENATOR LOGAN ON THE VETO.—A Washington correspondent of the Chicago Tribune of [illegible] says that Senator Logan thus expressed himself on the veto in a hotel in that city:

"Grant is now assured of his third term and I have no doubt he will be renominated for the next thirty or forty years if he so desires. He has secured the support of the eighteen hundred national banks of this country and as the population of the nation is but a little over 40,000,000 what can such a handful of people expect to do against the combined money interest?"

The brilliant Senator is warming with his subject [illegible] continued: "Yes it is a [illegible] message. It is a most wonderful message. [illegible] was probably never [illegible] into the same space. Why this message don't know even how to do [illegible]. He adds up 11 and 4 and calls it 20."

A DEFAULTING RAILROAD.—A New York dispatch of May 4th says: [illegible] Hesterburg who recently arrived from Germany as the representative of a large number of German bondholders of American railroad securities says the immediate object of his visit is to make some arrangement to secure German holders of the Rockford Rock Island and St Louis Railroad bonds which road has twice defaulted in the payment of interest.

GRANGER TIM AND SLIPPERY DICK AT HILLSBORO

HILLSBORO, May [illegible] 1874

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

For some days past there has been a general conjecture among the people of this county as to whether Timothy Davenport would meet Mr Richard Williams at this point or not. The prevailing opinion however was that Mr Davenport would not be here. This on yesterday evening was strongly backed up by the appearance of M J Mulkey and J C Moreland from Portland who seemed to have something good for the ears of the few who were true to the N[illegible]. No doubt they were looking out for the interests of the Granders ticket and from the manner in which they went for Moreland in company with some others they must [illegible].

However this in turn. Messrs Williams and Davenport arrived on the down train and word passed around of their arrival, and in a short time persons began to arrive in squads of three and four from different quarters of the county. Numerous citizens of our county availed themselves of the opportunity of calling on both the candidates, for the purpose of having a friendly chat or forming their acquaintance. At the hour of speaking the crowd repaired to the Court House. There was a much larger turnout than had been expected. On motion Dr F A Bailey was chosen Chairman of the meeting and on that gentleman's taking his place within the bar, announced as first speaker

TIMOTHY W. DAVENPORT,

Independent candidate who would address them upon the political issues of the day. On Mr Davenport's taking the stand he said that it was his desire to avoid all personalities that he had no personal animosities to gratify and held no ill will against any man. He then proceeded to speak of the Independent party its organization, reviewed the difference between the parties in England and the United States and spoke of the Credit Mobilier jobbing, and the theory which led the masses to distrust the old parties. Though they had hoped against hope for reform it had grown worse and worse until the voting masses had concluded to withdraw themselves from all party ties. He arraigned Gov Grover and the Federal office holders for using their patronage for the purpose of riding into office or foisting upon the people men who were obnoxious to a large majority of the voting public. He spoke of the inflation measures was in favor of returning to specie payment and went for the railroads in a manner that was truly refreshing to the average Washington county man. Mr Davenport entered into many details and made many happy hits that called the house down in a perfect storm of applause.

MR WILLIAMS WAS INTRODUCED.

He stated that he was always willing to concede to his opponent all that he claimed for himself said no party can exist that is founded upon hatred of party leaders. That he had no opinion on the finance question, and that he believed Davenport was as ignorant on that question as he was, that the candidates were bound only by the resolutions of their party and not by individuals in the party that parties are not responsible for the acts of officers in the discharge of their official duty that the parties were not responsible for Credit Mobiliers or Sanborn swindles but the individuals themselves and that the Republican party had done all in its power to bring them to a strict accountability. He argued that the present parties were as competent to work reform if the members desired as any party that could be formed on the same basis that the Independent party was organized as a means by which a few persons might ride into office. He was in favor of aid from Government to build our railroads and thought that the General Government should pass laws to regulate the same.

Alluding to Davenport's strong indictment against the Custom House ring Mr Williams said he never knew of a dollar being spent in Portland or anywhere else for corrupting the ballot. He declared that Portland as far as his knowledge went was no more corrupt than any other place. Mr Williams closed by declaring that he was in favor of returning as soon as possible to specie payments. He did as well as might be for a bad cause.

BAKER COUNTY

BAKER May 2 1874

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

Your correspondent last week visited across the mountains—Auburn Mormon Basin, Malheur and Eldorado—finding everybody at work everywhere except at Eldorado where they are having some ditch troubles. Our water and mining prospects are good and if that railroad bill passes Baker will be a good point for trade &c.

For the past few days we have had showers of rain and snow but not cold and the hills and gardens are beginning to look green. Politics are running high but it's hard to say whom your neighbor will vote for. All want reform and change for the better.

Last evening I had the pleasure of witnessing a pleasant and very agreeable May party at Twigg's Hall. All the elite and fashion of Baker were out and your correspondent had the felicity of dancing in miner's boots with some of the prettiest of the ladies—simple courtesy you know.

To day cloudy. Trade improving and I have already seen some nice fresh gold dust. The James Gordon lode is splendid. [illegible]

A MILITARY DEGRADATION.—The Gaulois describes a painful ceremony performed in the court-yard of the Ecole Militaire of Paris. An officer in the army Capt Mathuzewitz formerly attached to the One Hundred and Third Regiment of the Line had been tried and condemned to death for participation in the revolt of the Commune. The capital sentence was commuted by the President of the Republic into one of transportation. The prisoner escorted by two gendarmes was marched into the center of a square formed by detachments from various regiments. He was in full uniform with the cross of the Legion of Honor and several military medals. The officer commanding having read the sentence a Sergeant went up to the prisoner tore off the lace from the cuffs of his coat his epaulettes and his military decorations and casting them upon the ground trampled them, [illegible] his sword and pretending to break it. The prisoner was then reconveyed to prison to await his removal from the country.

AN INDIGNANT ATTORNEY.—A witness in a case of misdemeanor was being examined in the Police Court yesterday by the Prosecuting Attorney who said to him:

"Were you ever in the State prison?"

"I was," replied the witness.

"What for? Stealing?" asked the attorney.

"No not stealing," answered the witness. "I went over for [illegible]."

"Assault with a deadly weapon?" asked the [illegible]

"Yes your Honor," said the witness in answer. "I was over there and I [illegible] not be ashamed of it because it was not for larceny [illegible]"

As soon as the witness had concluded the Prosecuting Attorney sprang to his feet and in an excited manner asked that the witness be punished for contempt of Court.

His Honor smiled and said he did not think the witness was in any contempt of the Court.—S F [illegible] April 19th

And so we go said a member of a Boston school committee: "Our great men are fast departing—first Greeley then Chase and now Sumner—and I don't feel very well myself."

The ship Harvest Home is discharging freight in Seattle and will load for return trip with coal from the Renton coal mines and lumber from the Yesler & Colman sawmill.

Some of the Salt Lake Saints attribute Brigham's new swindling scheme—the Order of Enoch—to his imbecility while others say it is pure cussedness backed up by greed.

The St Joseph, Mo, Herald reports a whole fleet of boats passing there for the Upper Missouri trade. The Sioux City papers also, report the river full of boats for the same purpose.

The steamboat Nellie Peck was loading at Sioux City and announced to leave for Benton April 18th. Montana freight for river transportation is scarce at St Louis. 1 500 tons had been shipped by rail.

A force of some twelve or fifteen men is at work on the Seattle and Walla Walla Railroad above the head of the bay continuing the clearing, grading &c begun so thoroughly in connection with the May day picnic.

Hon O Jacobs has filed his official oath in the office of the Secretary of the Territory and is now ready to enter upon the duties of the office of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the Territory of Washington for his second term of four years.

The temperance movement in Seattle is assuming considerable proportions. Last Sunday evening, the Brown Church including both galleries was densely packed there being some 500 persons seated. Some fifty names were added to the pledge making near 200 in all. Another meeting is appointed for next Sunday evening.

On the 17th ult the Lone Mountain Mining Company of Grant county New Mexico at the depth of 50 feet in their Itasca mine (Central City district) broke into an old tunnel which had been carefully concealed on the surface. The opening is about 30 feet in length, 10 feet wide and about 18 feet high, revealing an immense body of good smelting ore. When or by whom the work was done no one there can tell. From the great care taken to hide the lode it is evident that it was the intention of those who worked it to return. It is thought that the laborers were driven off by the Apaches.

The amount of silver ores or base bullion counted at its quantity in tons shipped abroad from Montana during last year was 691 of the average value of at least $200 per ton and at the rates at which shipments can now be made yield a handsome profit to the owners. It is estimated there are 3 000 to 5 000 tons of ore that will pay to ship now lying on the dumps at the various mines, and it can readily be seen what a material augmentation of the bullion product their shipment would make. The cost of transportation is still however, a heavy tax on the quartz owner, and only the richer ores can be utilized.

A dispatch from Mr S S Glover Lightning Creek to Mr Gosnell dated Saturday states that the Vulcan Company have struck rich pay in their claim. The Vulcan Company are supposed to be on the Victoria lead, which has paid so richly.

A correspondent writing on the 28th of April states that Mr Sampson has blasted out the first bluff on the Howe Sound trail and the writer expected to ride over it in 10 days time. There were still two feet of snow on Pavilion Mountain from the Grotto to the creek on the east side. Stock in Cutoff Valley has wintered well.

The mail carrier from Kootenai arrived at Victoria May 2d. He brought news that Perry Creek was paying well. Thomas Parr stabbed Alex Berland in the left breast inflicting a wound that will prove fatal. Snow was disappearing, cattle were doing well and pack trains will be able to cross Hope Mountain in June. The trail and bridges are in a bad state.

A man was taken out of the water in Victoria harbor by persons who ran in answer to his cries of distress. On the wharf was found his hat and coat which he had laid off with a note written in a bold hand: "The last of old Morris. God forgive him." It would seem that the old man tired of life intended ending his days but that contact with the water brought him to a better mind.

An Ottawa dispatch of April 30th says: A new expedition under Horetzky has left here to explore the country lying between Skeena river and Bute Inlet. The party will ascertain whether a favorable route for a railway can be found between the north bend of the Fraser river and Peace river. It is reported such a route can be found almost in a direct line between the systems of water communication.

DECISION IN THE U S CIRCUIT COURT BY JUDGE DEADY

United States Circuit Court—District of Oregon

In the matter of the application of Joseph Simon administrator of Abner H Barker deceased to have the action commenced by said Barker in his life time against William S Ladd et al continued by said Simon as administrator aforesaid.

DEADY J—Thursday May 7 1874.

On September 11, 1871 Abner H Barker commenced an action in this Court against William S Ladd, John C Ainsworth Simeon G Reed and Robert R Thompson for the recovery of $55 860 damages alleged to have been incurred by him in the sale of his stock in the O S N Co by reason of the misrepresentations of the defendants concerning the same while acting as Directors of said Company, and died on March 14 1872 and on April 6 1874, said Simon was duly appointed administrator of said Barker's estate.

Upon these facts on April 10th 1874 said Simon applied for leave to continue the action as administrator of the deceased.

The application is opposed by the defendants upon the ground that it was not made within a year from the death of the plaintiff Barker.

It is admitted that under the law of the State (Or Code §§ 365, 366) and § 34 of the judiciary act (1 Stat 81), that this cause of action survived.

The right of an administrator to maintain an action for such a cause is given by the law of the State, and such law by said § 34, is made the rule of decision in this court.

§ 31 of the judiciary act provides that upon the death of a party to an action in the U S courts, before final judgment, "in case the cause of action doth survive," the administrator of such deceased party may prosecute or defend, as the case may be.

Neither this or any other law of the U S declares what causes of action shall survive, therefore under § 34 aforesaid, the law of the State furnishes the rule on the subject.

Under this § 31 the representative of the deceased party may voluntarily appear and make himself a party to the suit and if he neglects or refuses to do so the adverse party may if he desire it have a scire facias against him to compel him to do so. No time is limited within which these proceedings may take place. But the law of the State (Or Code § 37) also provides that no action shall abate by the death of a party and that "In case of the death of a party, the Court may at any time within one year thereafter, on motion, allow the action to be continued by or against his personal representative."

This provision in relation to the time within which the application must be made is a rule of practice, and under § 5 of the act of Congress of June 1, 1872 "to further the administration of justice" (17 Stat 197) governs the practice in this court.

It is clear then that this motion comes too late and cannot be allowed. While both the law of the United States and the State authorize the administrator to become a party to the action in place of the deceased party, the law of the State goes farther and in effect prescribes that this right must be exercised within one year, or else it is taken away or barred. It is a statute of limitations upon the right to maintain or continue this action.

Under a similar provision in the N Y code (§ 121), in Matter of Borsdorff 17 Abb P R 171 it was held that the motion would not lie after the expiration of a year from the death.

The motion must be denied with $5 costs.

J. N. Dolph, for motion

MR WILLIAMS' DISCREET IGNORANCE.

When Richard Williams entered the present campaign a bill was pending in Congress which called for the issue of $100 000,000 of paper currency in addition to the present circulation When interrogated on sundry occasions as to his opinion on the bill he invariably declared that he knew nothing about the merits of the subject True, the Republican party, by its platforms had repeatedly pledged itself to a speedy resumption of specie payments,' as early as Dec 4 1865, the House of Representatives had by a vote, almost unanimous authorized a contraction of the currency from $400,000,000 (the war figure) to $356 000,000 President Grant in his messages to Congress (notably in the annual message of December 1869,) earnestly urged a gradual return to specie payments True, the Pendletonian doctrine of cheap money had been repeatedly denounced by Republican leaders in Congress and Republican voters at the polls True, again, this doctrine had been repeatedly stigmatized (by Mr Williams himself, perhaps) as national dishonor—repudiation. Yet when in 1874, Mr Williams, as the representative of the Republican party, was called upon to reaffirm or renounce his ancient faith, he plead ignorance and was dumb There was may hap, a convenient excuse Morton Carpenter, Butler, and other shining lights of his party were avowed inflationists The President had not yet spoken

And then on that other vital question, of the right of Congress to regulate charges on inter-State railways, Mr Williams had no settled opinion Senator Mitchell was a member of the Senate Committee on Transportation Routes and Mr Mitchell had not yet spoken And so we presume, on all questions in which the material interests of his State and nation are involved, Mr Williams stands dumb before his oracles.

Up to this point we do not care to discuss the point whether this ignorance be feigned or real A knowledge of Mr Williams's antipathy to the study of political economy, and the listless indifference with which he has hitherto regarded the current politics of the country—these considerations, together with that degree of charity which is the birthright of every mortal—induces us to concede to the Republican candidate all he demands—utter and disastrous ignorance of all political matters at issue between the rings and the people But there are some facts on which there is no issue, because they are known of all men and denied by none We allude to the charges of corruption and bribery against the Custom House ring concerning which Mr Williams said, in his speech at Hillsboro last Wednesday he knew nothing We may be allowed the hope that Mr Williams was incorrectly reported, or that if he was correctly reported he will reconsider his imprudent assertion of ignorance He was [illegible] ident of Portland when the trial of [illegible] Mulkey and others (by proxy) was [illegible] in the United States District Court, [illegible] sufficiently acquainted with the evi[illegible] to know that these men were [illegible] of the most scandalous cor[illegible] that they went unwhipt of [illegible] simply because in the processes of [illegible] hindrances sprang to their re[illegible] quarters whence should have [illegible] means for their condign punish[illegible] These things occurred at a time [illegible] Mr Williams was not accounted an [illegible] Republican by the criminals be[illegible] whom he would now throw the shield of his dense ignorance He can not evade the facts Even if he could he chose for [illegible] purpose a most unfortunate place. The people of Washington county are too well acquainted with the shameful outrages which have been perpetrated for years past in Portland We do not wonder that Mr Williams' subterfuge was scoffed at and derided

There is another noteworthy feature in this matter it is the remarkable facility with which the Republican candidate adapts his opinions to localities. All through the canvass south of Salem, in that portion of the country where by his spirited denunciation of the Hipple resolution, Mr Williams has been regarded as an anti-ring man, he has striven to "buck" from under the load of corruption which he carries by the grace of Scott, Ben Simpson and Hipple He has repeatedly denounced the Custom House ring. But, mark you, his hatred of their briberies, and frauds is in direct ratio to the distance from Portland Hence it is that at Hillsboro, in the immediate vicinity of Scott and the other bribers, his zealous repudiation ceases, and he begins to assume the role of apologist for the ring.

At Oakland, Mr Williams called upon a citizen of Portland to confirm his statements but was denied He might have been more successful at Hillsboro. When he declared that corruption and bribery were things unknown in Portland why didn't he call on Mr M F Mulkey to corroborate his statement? Our correspondent says Mulkey was there. He might have been more successful at Hillsboro When he declared that bribery and corruption were things unknown in Portland, that the elections were characterized by a gentle honesty which would not admit of fraud, why didn't he call on Mr M F Mulkey to corroborate his statement? Our correspondent says Mulkey was there and we are sure he would have leaped with joyful glee at this rare opportunity to vindicate his fair fame from the aspersions of Ryan, the repeater And if we may be allowed a suggestion Richard Williams will address the people of Portland to night, will he call upon the City Attorney to confirm his Hillsboro declaration? And will he gently but firmly wave a photographic copy of the June corruption fund in Mr Scott's face in Mr Dennis face, and ask them to identify their signatures? Will he request Thos G Young United States Marshal to tell why he did not pay his $100 subscription? Will he ask L H Briggs—whom Mr Williams may identify as Captain of the Precinct —whether his $50 of currency was as 'elastic' as Start's wages? Can he confront L P W Quimby with the solemn conundrum 'Why did you pay but $40 on your $100 subscription?' If Slippery Richard can induce Scott to tell the truth for once in his life, his burden of ignorance will be lightened to a gratifying extent

Colonel John W Forney has written a letter to prove that the Centennial managers are in no wise straitened for funds The appropriation of $1 000 000 by the city of Philadelphia, about the legality of which there has been some discussion is said by Forney to be strictly legal and in every way satisfactory to the people of Philadelphia The State has appropriated $1 000 000 and Philadelphia $500 000 toward the erection of a memorial edifice which is to be used during the Exhibition as an art gallery to stand forever in Prospect Park as a monument to the day we celebrate Colonel Forney gives the following as an accurate statement of the finances of the Commission

Guaranteed subscriptions of citizens	$1 700 000
Subscriptions by team railroads	900 000
Appropriation by City Councils	1 000,000
Additional (guaranteed) subscriptions	250 000
Total	$3 850 000

Adding to this total the appropriations previously alluded to we have the very handsome sum of $4 450 000 The bill reported to the House by Representative Kelley of Pennsylvania and which will probably pass makes an appropriation of $3 000 000 from the national treasury Seven and one-half millions judiciously invested by a manager like P T Barnum would make the average Philadelphia heart to leap like the Angora goat

The New York Tribune thinks that people who look to the President's veto of the Senate finance bill as a source of political disorganization make a great mistake The Mortons the Butlers and the Logans will stick to Grant because he holds the offices within his gift while by the message the President has very largely regained the better and hitherto greatly disaffected class of his supporters As to the message itself the Tribune regards it as one of the most respectable State papers that have emanated from the White House since the days of Lincoln Current gossip attributes it to Bancroft Davis The Tribune with many other Eastern journals thinks that the situation compels a new Secretary of the Treasury that, while Mr Richardson has not been so much unsound as merely unfit, the Sanborn business has shown something worse than incompetence A man like William M Evarts would be welcome but we are pretty certain to get a Columbus Delano.

After the crushing defeat which followed Attorney General Williams nomination to the Chief Justiceship it was said that since the extraordinary circumstances which brought about that defeat would seem to call for his retirement from the Cabinet a foreign mission would be tendered him This rumor is revived in Washington dispatches of recent date which assert that Mr Williams will succeed Minister Jay at Vienna, and Bristow of Kentucky enter the Cabinet as Attorney General It is possible, of course, that Mr Williams may be nominated Minister to Vienna The appointment of Van Buren and the return of Jay following quickly on Van Buren's confirmation would indicate that the mission to Austria will soon be vacated It is possible that Mr Williams name may be sent to the Senate

There is an item in San Francisco journals of the 3d inst which may be pleasant reading to Mr, H W Scott et al. We allude to the trial before Judge Louderback of one William S Moss a saloon keeper, who in June 1873 induced three sailors who were not entitled to a vote to go up to the polls and deposit their ballots. When the case was called for trial it was discovered that the witnesses in two of the cases against Moss had been spirited out of the State. On pleading guilty to the third complaint Moss was sentenced to pay a fine of five hundred dollars or suffer imprisonment for a term of six months We believe a party by the name of P Coakley once kept a saloon in Portland Mr H W S can fill out the reminiscence at his leisure

It is said that the Indiana party organs have blundered fearfully in attacking the call issued by the Grangers for an Independent State Convention Their vehement denials of the authenticity of the call have prompted Mr Comstock, Overseer of the State Grange to give an extended account of the causes which induced the farmers to call the Convention He writes the Indianapolis Sentinel that the call was the result of free discussion among the farmers for months past and was put forth as the unanimous conclusion of the entire body as represented in the recent gathering at Indianapolis He says he is in receipt of letters daily from all parts of the State showing him that the Convention will be largely attended

Rev Dr Carlton who has for twenty years been at the head of the M E Book Concern at New York died in Elizabeth New Jersey April 18th He was a successful financier and during his life accumulated a large fortune At the time of his death he was city treasurer of Elizabeth, a director in the Shoe and Leather Bank and in the Home Insurance Company

Sharp Trick in the New York Legislature —An Albany dispatch of April 29th says At half past one o clock this afternoon while the bill appropriating two hundred and fifty thousand dollars for the Department of Parks of New York was under discussion Mr Spencer of New York moved to insert a clause which had been agreed upon in the Republican caucus legislating the present five Park Commissioners out of office and providing for the appointment by the Mayor of New York of new Commissioners He moved the previous question but before it could be ordered the Assembly took a recess until 4 P M The Democratic members denounce the trick as worse than any attempt at unfair legislation by the Tweed party Immediately after recess the Democrats held a caucus and decided to resign in a body should the bill be passed by Mr Spencer's call for the previous question This would leave all the two thirds and three fifths bills unpassed The House reassembled at 4 P M and Mr Spencer's motion was laid on the table until 7 o clock this evening There is considerable excitement here in consequence of this unlooked for action on the part of the Republicans The hour fixed for the final adjournment of the Legislature is noon to morrow but it is not probable that the business of the session will be concluded before to morrow at midnight

FRIDAY MORNING MAY 8 1874

CITY.

Battle of Palo Alto—This day twenty eight years ago the battle of Palo Alto was fought on the plains of South Texas about eight miles from Matamoras on the Rio Grande. As there are a number of Mexican veterans in this city who were in many engagements during the war between Mexico and the United States we append the following brief sketch of the battle of Palo Alto as it will doubtless be perused with interest and will bring freshly back to memory numerous reminiscences of the war. This battle was fought on the 8th of May 1846 between about 6,000 Mexicans, under General Arista and 2,300 U S Soldiers under old Zack Taylor While General Taylor was at Fort Brown opposite Matamoras, intelligence was received that the Mexican General had crossed the Rio Grande, above, with a large force, and threatened Point Isabel, where the U S army had a depot of provisions General Taylor therefore marched, on May 1st 1846 to the relief of this place, which he reached before General Arista and having put it in a fit condition for defense he started upon his return on the 7th On the 8th, about noon he discovered the enemy in large force in front of him and in a position to intercept his return to Ft. Brown After a short halt for refreshments he formed his line in two wings Col Twiggs commanded the right which composed the fifth and third regiments of infantry, Maj Ringold's Light Artillery and two squadrons of dragoons The left wing was under command of Lieut Colonel Belknap and consisted of two batteries of light artillery and the Eighth Infantry At 2 P M the army advanced, and the Mexicans opened upon it a heavy fire of artillery, and charged the right wing with lances But they were steadily driven back the prairie grass was set on fire and under cover of the smoke the Americans rapidly advanced After an action of five hours the Mexicans abandoned their position and the Americans encamped for the night upon the field. The American loss was only 4 men killed, and 3 officers and 37 men wounded. Major Ringold was killed during the first fatal charge, at the head of his command The Mexicans lost killed and wounded about 190 men Capt. Tom. Mountain of this city was in the engagement at Palo Alto. He proposes to hoist the American colors over the Armory of the Portland Light Battery and fire a salute to-day in honor of the 28th anniversary

Joaquin Miller in Italy—A Florence correspondent of an Eastern exchange has the following on Joaquin which may be of interest to his friends here and elsewhere At an evening reception I observed a man who had neglected both broadcloth and gloves His hair hung over his forehead and his thin boots had no polish 'That is Joaquin Miller' said my partner 'he is living down in the theater of Marcellus, among the old iron and scrap stone studying the people and neglecting the form and ceremony which society imposes on all but its pet lions' I was seated with him later when he was invited by a lady to dance He declined with the excuse that he had retired from the carpet since he got a bullet in his leg 'Perhaps Mr Miller would give us the war dance,' suggested a gentleman near 'Oh do Mr Miller,' pleaded several young ladies at once. 'Well, now' said he 'it was only two or three evenings ago when after being begged an hour and a half, I agreed to try the war dance but I had scarcely began presentations when the ladies objected, and, of course I had to give it up.' 'Why, how strange, Mr Miller, what did you do?' 'Naturally' said he, 'I was going to dance it in costume but I hadn't gone any further than taking off my coat and vest when the people objected as I told you.' He doesn't write any letters now, for if he attempts it, the person fills his thoughts, the whole day, and that is too great a sacrifice of time, and as for reading any he lets them accumulate awhile, and then presents the bundle to a friend

Decoration Day—The following general order has been issued by the Commander of the Grand Army of the Republic It is to be hoped that Sunday Schools and Church Societies will join in with Canby and Baker Posts of this city, and participate in the ceremonies of Decoration Day

The 30th day of May having been set apart by the National Encampment Grand Army of the Republic as sacred to the memory of those who sacrificed their lives on the altar of their country for the preservation of the Union on that day the Members of the Grand Army of the Republic throughout the whole Union, assemble and, with befitting ceremonies pay the tribute of respect in honor of the heroic dead and decorate with flowers the graves of their dead comrades.

A cordial invitation is extended to you to participate with the Grand Army of the Republic in the exercises and observance of that day

By order of the Post Committee.

Ankle Broken—Yesterday morning a boy who is employed in lighting and extinguishing the street lamps of the city, met with a severe accident. He was making his usual rounds about 3 o'clock in the morning, on horseback, when the accident occurred Just as he was suddenly turning a corner, the animal's feet slipped, and it fell flat on one side One of the rider's legs was caught and jammed violently against the end of the sidewalk The bones of the right ankle we learn were broken, and the boy otherwise injured by the fall. In a helpless condition he was conveyed to his home, which fortunately, was near at hand and a surgeon hastily summoned The proper medical attendance was bestowed and the boy is doing as well as could be anticipated under the circumstances.

Free Reading Room—From the Advocate we learn that a project is on foot for the immediate establishment on the first floor of some centrally located building in this city of a free public reading room for the benefit of young and old This room is to be made attractive and desirable as a place of evening resort instead of saloons Newspapers magazines and periodicals will be supplied and all made to feel welcome, and no fee required It is expected also that a coffee saloon will be opened in connection with it at which a lunch or meal at a low price, may be obtained during the day or evening by those who may need it We learn that this subject, with a plan of operations will be presented to the Young Men's Christian Association on next Monday evening.

North Portland Lodge, I O G T—On Wednesday evening, at the first meeting of this Lodge for the current term, the following officers were installed W C T Enoch Turner W V T Mrs J B Roberts W S T L Sailes, W A S Mrs M E Sutherland, W T, Miss E J Sutherland W F S Henry Brown W C, W H Grenfell W M Richard Beverell W D M Miss E Richards W I G, Miss Belle Sutherland W O G, H L Clark, R H S, Laura F Turner L H S, Miss Emma Sutherland J B Roberts P W C T and J M Jones Lodge Deputy

Delinquent School Tax—In consequence of the late defalcation, and the confusion and delay necessarily following Mr J D Holman the School Clerk of District No 1 has not been able thus far to commence the collection of delinquent school taxes for the District We are requested to state that he will begin to collect all taxes returned as delinquent on Monday next His office is with Atkinson & Wakefield at the corner of Stark and Front streets

Annual Election—At the annual election of officers of the Vancouver Catholic Library Association recently held the following persons were chosen Honorary President Right Rev A M A Blanchet Acting President Rev A Yunger 1st Vice-President Francis Brogan 2d Vice President J B Blanchet Treasurer John McMullin Secretary John O'Keane Librarian Rev A Yunger Asst Librarian, Rev J B Boulet

BROUGHT BACK.

R J LADD THE ABSCONDING SCHOOL CLERK GAVE HIMSELF UP TO THE HANDS OF THE OFFICER—HE ARRIVED IN THE CITY YESTERDAY IN CUSTODY OF OFFICER M'COY

Various rumors which have been in circulation for several days and disturbing the public mind in relation to the capture of the defaulting School Clerk Robert J Ladd were settled beyond all conjecture by his arrival in this city yesterday on the evening train in custody of officer McCoy

As we have obtained the information from officer McCoy the following are the particulars of the recovery of Mr Ladd With Ladd in his custody McCoy left Empire City on Monday morning 29th ult He traveled along the beach 20 miles to the mouth of the Umpqua They then took a boat and ascended the river to Gardner a distance of 10 miles From that point the officer and prisoner went by boat to Scottsburg supper which consisted of biscuits fried perch and coffee was eaten at the Ocean House at Gardner by the two men on Monday evening just prior to embarking for Scottsburg Seven hours in a boat brought the two to Scottsburg It was a long and tedious passage during which time the rain descended in torrents Scottsburg was reached Tuesday morning about 2 o'clock Soon after arriving, and just as McCoy and Ladd were preparing to go to bed the prisoner gave him the go by Ladd complained of feeling very thirsty and stepped towards the door to take a drink At the same moment he beckoned to the landlord and signified a desire to hold a little conversation with that person The landlord approached Ladd and thoughtlessly placed his hand on the door knob and partially opened it This was the golden opportunity and before either the landlord or McCoy could think, the prisoner had escaped Nothing more was seen of Ladd until Wednesday morning about 6 o'clock when he appeared at Baker's ranch a few miles from Scottsburg He obtained only a small piece of bread and butter and a little milk with which to appease his hunger After hurriedly devouring a few morsels he left Baker's and started for the mountains near at hand From Wednesday morning until the following Monday afternoon Ladd was not seen by a human being nor did a mouthful of food of any kind pass his lips He states that after the third day the pangs of hunger all left him From that time on he continued to grow weaker and weaker, and his thirst to increase

About 2 o'clock on Monday afternoon Ladd came to the house of a family named Levens near the mouth of Elk creek and gave himself up He was so weak and dizzy that he was scarcely able to stand alone, not having tasted food of any kind for six days The Levens—of whom there were two—on learning who he was and his condition proposed to ferry him across the Umpqua river for $60 apiece They promised to give him food and blankets, and to put him on an old Government trail which if he followed would be certain to carry him beyond the reach of his pursuers But Ladd declined to accept their very generous (?) offer, but told them he proposed to give himself up to the authorities and had no desire to wander any longer in the mountains During all these six days Ladd had wandered in the mountains he had only traveled about 20 miles away from Scottsburg Every avenue of escape was closely guarded, and he could only keep himself from the sight of his pursuers during the time Accompanied by the two Levens Ladd started for Oakland where he arrived last Wednesday and immediately placed himself in the custody of officer McCoy who had arrived there only a short time before Yesterday morning they took the cars and arrived here on the evening of the same day

Ladd on reaching the city jail presented a very pitiable appearance He was jaded down and emaciated by exposure and severe privations, and his clothes were torn and covered with mud Previous to his arrival, his father in law, Mr Joseph Knott, had made all arrangements for obtaining the necessary bonds Within fifteen minutes from the time of his arrival the required bonds were furnished and Mr Ladd released from custody. His attorneys Messrs Cronin and Bronaugh waived an examination and the bonds were fixed at $15,000 The following gentlemen are his sureties Geo F. Greene L P W Quimby, T J Robinson A Roberts C T DuBois Chas Perkins Jos Knott, Phil Cohn, Geo B Cook

SOCIAL EVENTS.

The ball season virtually came to a close last evening with the event of the season—the first annual ball at the Progress Club Rooms Though the Club has given, during the early part of the season a number of receptions social parties and an entertainment all of which have been highly successful they were not forgetful of their numerous friends and one of the objects of the Club—to give all the pleasure possible in the forms stated—at the Opening of the second year of its existence The reports of the officers have shown a flattering exhibit and a continuance of a like success through the ensuing year will place the Club in an excellent condition. To be brief the evening of pleasure came and with it an unusually large assembly of ladies and gentlemen who filled up the various apartments by 10 o'clock when the orchestra began to play the march, at the conclusion of which the couples formed into quadrille and then the enjoyments of the night began We observed quite a number of guests from abroad intermingled with many of the 'lions' of our own fair city Appended is a list of the great or portion of those in attendance the ladies having the precedence Miss Ackerman of Oregon City Misses Jacob of Corvallis Miss Ella Cole Miss Pollock Misses Sherlock Mrs N A Hirstel, Mrs F C Henrichsen Miss Pauline Beck Mrs S S Ackerman of San Francisco Mrs Isam White Mrs George T Myers, Miss Tillie Jacobi Mrs J M Baltimore Miss Emma Saunders, Mrs Abpel, Mrs W W Spaulding Mrs J Fleischner Mrs W H Williams Mrs Burman Mrs Dr Chapman Miss Jennie Bacharan Mrs P J Martin Mrs H L Pittock Mr Friedman

GEN SCHENCK'S FIANCEE ROMANTIC HISTORY OF THE LADY

Corr of the New York Sun]

WASHINGTON, April 26

It has been rumored for some time that Gen Schenck was engaged to be married, but now it is formally announced who the lady is that is to be his bride Your readers will doubtless remember the brilliant and handsome Mrs Hicks whose appearance in New York society in the winter of 1872 created such a furor, the lady whose elegant receptions in her palatial residence 10 West Fourteenth street, drew the elite of New York together so frequently during that winter of gayety and business prosperity; the charming and wealthy widow whom the gossips declared had announced her resolution never, never to marry again But the papers have contradicted the gossips, and they say positively that Gen. Schenck is to be the happy man

The history of the bride elect is romantic By birth she is a South American Her parents, North Americans and Northerners, were living in Brazil when she was born Her name is Annetta, but her lineage is English, not Spanish She married an elderly very wealthy man but lived in retirement until after his death. Then her New York real estate increased in value, and she became immensely rich She went to Europe, visited Rome, and became a devoted Roman Catholic, giving largely to the church On her return to America she became a queen of society, traveled, visiting many persons of distinction, and was at one time the guest of Madame LeVert in Mobile, Ala in the prosperous days of that social celebrity Mrs Hicks is still young enough to be called "the admiration of men and the envy of women," she has grown tired of freedom, and has determined to wear the pleasant chains of matrimony again

DR. SCHLIEMANN'S RESEARCHES.—The Academy learns from a letter dated Athens, March 12, that Dr Schliemann has been to Mycenae on a reconnoitering expedition It was to be expected that on the spot where the tomb or treasury of Atreus had been discovered, other remnants of the past would come to light if only the Greek Government would be less jealous, and allow foreign archeologists to do what the Greeks themselves seem not inclined to do We do not know whether King George has taken a higher view of the subterraneous treasures of his country than to keep them like coal-beds for future generations, and has given Dr Schliemann a permission which has so often been refused to other explorers At all events, Dr Schliemann, after his successful campaign at Troy, has been to Mykenas, has opened his approaches, and has already recovered some interesting antiquities In order to ascertain what the accumulation of rubbish in the different localities of Mycenae might be, he investigated the Acropolis in thirty-four different places He opened six shafts on the first terrace, which runs nearly horizontally to the Lion's Gate, and two on the second terrace He reached the rock on the first terrace at a depth of fifteen, seventeen, eighteen and a half, and twenty feet, on the second at a depth of twelve and twenty feet. He dug up pottery which he describes as splendidly ornamented, two stone axes, one flint arrow, a number of idols, of which five are Heras with a palos on the head, and a number of little cows of red terra-cotta. There are about 15,000 cubic metres of rubbish to be explored, and Dr. Schliemann expects to find thousands of antiquities, if only the Greek Government will allow him to continue his work.

SINGULAR SPECULATIONS IN THE EAST.—Archeologists, says the Levant Herald, have of late years turned their attention largely to the recovery of the vast remains of antiquity which are known to abound all over Turkey. Cyprus, Ephesus, Nineveh, the Troad, and other classical sites have been probed with pick and spade, and the search has generally been productive of discoveries valuable alike to the speculator and to the student Hitherto the search has been directed rather to objects of early antiquity than to those relics of the Middle Ages, of which Crete and Rhodes are the principal repositories, but which are found scattered in the shape of old fortresses and castles along the shores of the Mediterranean Founding expectation upon a popular tradition, a company is now, it appears, soliciting from the Turkish Government a firman for dredging the Port of Rhodes for the bronze guns and culverins which are said to have been committed to the waters in the times of the heroic struggle between the Knights of St John and the mighty Solyman The petitioners offer to give the Government one-third of all that they may recover Speculation rather than archeology is supposed to be the main incentive in the proposed enterprise.

A CHARACTERISTIC SUICIDE.—The suicide of the Paris financial speculator, Lavivere, has produced a sensation, not from the failure, which is of late but too common an event in Paris, but by the cool manner in which he killed himself He hired a special room for the purpose, and returned there after a substantial breakfast. He had previously written letters begging his friends to come quickly and save his remains from public view, and above all from exposure in the Morgue Having stopped all crevices, he set fire to some charcoal, but found the chimney could not be stuffed completely However, he regarded that drawback as only a lengthening of his sufferings, and resolved to wait the coming of suffocation, passing the time in noting down his sensations In the interim his letters had been received, and friends rushed to ascertain the state of affairs One gentleman knocked at the door and the unfortunate replied, but while a second key was sought to open the door a pistol shot was heard The banker was found dead, the ink was not dry on the paper where he expressed his happiness that, his friends having arrived, his corpse would now be respected

JOHN BRIGHT ON SUMNER'S DEATH.

Mr John Bright, of England, has addressed the following letter to a citizen of Boston, Mass, who had sent him a photograph of Mr Sumner

ROCHDALE April 4, 1874

DEAR MR KINSLEY I am much indebted to you for your letter and for the photograph you have sent me. The portrait is admirable, and does justice to the great subject of it Mr Sumner spent his last night in England under this roof, and left us for Liverpool on the morning of the day on which he sailed His health was very much shaken, and I was sorry his voyage was in the winter The news of your great loss made me very sad I can imagine the feeling of sorrow it will have caused in the hearts of your countrymen In this country the press has done justice to your great Senator His unblemished life, his noble aims and his great service to freedom and humanity are freely admitted and greatly honored by our public writers Very sincerely yours,

JOHN BRIGHT

CREDIT MOBILIER CASES.—A New Haven dispatch of May 1st says In the United States Court before Judges Woodruff and Shipman, the Credit Mobilier cases came up this evening for final action Decrees sustaining the demurrers of all those who have demurred and answers of certain defendants were entered and signed by the Court Complainants thereupon prayed for an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States which was allowed.

The telegraph informs us that the Senate Finance Committee have agreed to recommend the incorporation of provisions in the House Finance bill fixing the maximum of greenback circulation at $3 8– 000,000 and to issue $164,000,000 of new national bank notes retiring for each million of such issue a half million of greenbacks until the total greenback circulation is reduced to $300,000,000 and fix January 1 1877, as the date for the resumption of specie payments

The presumption is that the increase from $3 6– 000,000 to $382,000,000 is to relieve the embarrassment of the Secretary of the Treasury, who without due authority of law has already issued the sum of $– 000,000 of the $44,000,000 reserve and its authorization by Congress is a necessary step in the vindication of Mr Richardson but as a precedent, such a measure can be but little less pernicious than the inflation bill which has just been vetoed by the President. The difference appears to be more in amount than in principle The determination to resume specie payments on the 1st of January 1877 is a wise one If so be the Government shall be able to carry it out when the time arrives, but other great and extensive measures of reform will necessarily have to be executed before, if at the date named the Treasury would possess the means to resume with without disastrous results to the country If a man's notes are out for a thousand coin dollars and he only has six hundred to pay them with he will certainly have to increase his fund on hand either by earning and saving borrowing or otherwise before he can lift all the notes with coin The paying of the notes with borrowed capital for which other notes were given would be specie payment but would not be lessening the man's indebtedness So if the Government issues bonds to enable it to resume specie payments it will be but simply changing the form of the debt and though some change might be desirable the manner in which it is to be brought about is a matter upon which there is likely to be a great diversity of opinion We shall await the details of the plan by which it is proposed to enable the Government to resume with much interest.

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—The surplus yet held in that part of the State west of the Cascade mountains is now quite small, not perhaps exceeding 8,000 or 10,000 tons reckoning that which has been converted into flour and held by the mills or their agents for export During the week under review, prices in San Francisco have dropped to an average not above $1 90 ₩ cental and our market ranges from 20 to 25 cents lower The supplies in England are shorter than usual at this season of the year, but crops almost everywhere are better and the vessels on the way to European ports with grain are also in excess of what they were one year ago so that the outlook for prices is not more favorable than in May 1873 The supply of tonnage likely to visit our port is rather more encouraging than last year though the surplus has been more nearly worked off than we had good reason to expect Reports of the condition of the growing crop in Oregon continue of the most encouraging character

FLOUR—The stocks in the hands of agents here are less than they have been for some time, and receipts both by river and mail are light. The coasting vessels are taking away considerable quantities for San Francisco and as many mills are closed for the season we shall probably witness no important accumulation of this commodity in our market before the mills begin on the new crop of wheat Prices remain steady at $5 50@5 75 ₩ bbl for standard brands, $5 for common, $4 25 for superfine and $4 for fine. The Portland, Rival and Velvet Peacock will each make up part of their cargo with this staple.

OATS—The inquiry for this grain is now very dull and it is doubtful if large lots could be placed at a greater figure than 40c ₩ bushel. No heavy shipments are now being made to San Francisco as the season has so far advanced in California that little call exists there outside the city and stocks are large There is probably almost one half the surplus of last year's crop in this State much of which it now appears will be carried over into next harvest The few shipments now being made are to fill contracts entered into some time ago

BARLEY—Transactions during the week have been very light and prices are nominally unchanged though choice lots would probably command an advance

FEED—The receipts of the past week have very much decreased and stocks are not large, though the local demand is fairly supplied and the call for shipping dull We quote at $23 ₩ ton for chops middlings etc, and $13@15 for bran These figures include sacks

HAY—The supply is lighter which accounts for prices being sustained at present figures $12 50@13 for baled timothy and $11@12 for loose do Wild is dull at $8@9 ₩ ton

POTATOES—Since our last weekly review shipments to San Francisco have ceased The tide will now turn the other way, and we shall receive the new crop of that State for a few weeks Choice of old crop sell at 50c ₩ bushel The local trade pretty nearly consumes receipts

ONIONS—Very scarce and high crop is nearly all gone what few remain are bringing from 3 to 4c for choice to medium, sprouted and second quality 2 to 2½c. We will soon be receiving new Onions from San Francisco

APPLES—None but one or two varieties are to be had and prices depend upon the fancy of the customer. Very little doing

BACON—The market is in full supply of all kinds and prices quite weak even at the low quotations given which are 10c11 cents for Sides 9c for Shoulders, and 12@13c for Hams The latter figures can only be obtained for choice country cured Fancy lots of sugar cured are 2a1 cents higher and not so plentiful

LARD—This article if of first-class quality meets with very ready sale at 13 cents ₩ lb in kegs 14 in tins. The supply of fresh Oregon made is small and inquiry brisk

BUTTER—The supply is much better as to quality than it was a week ago and very fair lots can now be purchased at 22a25c ₩ lb. Makers in Oregon who have been selling their product at 15@20c ₩ lb express themselves surprised that California Butter has been selling at wholesale here at the same time at 40c but such has been and is the case now The cause of this has been often enough noticed At this time quotations for Oregon made range from 15 to 30c ₩ lb

CHEESE—Our State dairies are putting small lots on the market of this spring's make at 16 cents ₩ lb and thus slightly checking the hitherto brisk sales of the California article But few lots however have yet come to hand

EGGS—For a day or so past receipts from all directions have been large, and prices have gone down to 12a14 cents ₩ dozen the latter figure being obtainable only for fresh receipts California still receives largely from the East

CHICKENS—The price has declined to $3 a3 50 ₩ doz for common lots, and $4 for the best grown and fat hens. The high prices realized the past few months are not likely to be reached again this season

BEEF CATTLE—The quality of arrivals is improving and show plainly the effect of the advent of the grazing season, but yet are not of average best condition Choice lots of young fat steers are worth 7c ₩ lb on foot, but common undersell these figures 1c ₩ lb

MUTTON SHEEP—In prime condition are scarce and in good demand at $4@4 50 ₩ head common $3@3 50

HIDES—We notice heavy receipts though many lots coming to hand are not undamaged and suffer a reduction of 10@25 ₩ cent off the price for best Quotations for prime lots are 14c a15c ₩ lb for dry 6½c for green 7c for green salted culls 11c a12½c

WOOL—Oregon sheep raisers have not yet began to shear and but few transactions are noticed in our home market. In California where the season is more forward the spring clip is coming to market and changing hands in some volume Though no positive advices from the East reach us the indications of activity in this staple are not flattering. We quote nominal at 22a25c ₩ lb for best and 18a20c for inferior grades

Boston Wool Market.

[BY TELEGRAPH]

BOSTON May 6 —There continues to be a steady demand for all desirable grades of wool and prices remain quite steady for good lines of fleeces of superfine and extra pulled and combings and delaine fleeces the small stock of fine fleeces on hand giving firm tone to prices Notwithstanding unfavorable advices from English sales even at a decline on that market there is no margin for shipment here and before many weeks foreign wool will have to come in competition with the new clip of the West In new spring California very little has been done Some choice lots are held as high as 40 cents but this is above buyers' views Quotations for new spring are 30@35c but there are no sales of importance Fall California moves off slowly at 20@28c

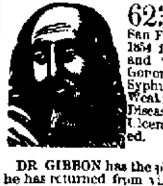
NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



623 KEARNEY STREET NEAR COMMERCIAL San Francisco Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness Impotency etc Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe and has resumed practice at his Dispensary 623 Kearney street corner of Commercial San Francisco where his old patients and others requiring his services may find him

The Doctor has spared no time nor money in seeking out new remedies and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering

Horrible Diseases

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret diseases from virus absorbed into the system! Look at the pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and the broken down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents guardians, and friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies and have them cared for and cured before it be too late Apply immediately to DR. GIBBON a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any other poisonous drug. Important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends. Be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of some charlatans

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emission the consequence of self abuse This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms unless combated by scientific medical measures, viz sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes pain in the head ringing in the ears noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots uneasiness about the loins weakness of the limbs, confusion of ideas blunted intellect loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances disposition to shun society loss of memory hectic flushes pimples and various eruptions about the face furred tongue, foetid breath coughs consumption night sweats monomania and frequent insanity If relief be not obtained apply immediately either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails in effecting a quick and radical cure Dr G will forfeit Five Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of the above complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

Married Men,

Or those who contemplate marriage, [illegible] ing under any of these fearful maladies [illegible] forget the sacred responsibility resting [illegible] nor delay to obtain immediate relief
